

We are a young Digital Health/FemTech Startup based in Vienna, building an innovative digital platform for women's health. We help women live cycle conscious with HealthTech solutions. After several years of research and development, we launched our first product breathe ilo, the world's most innovative cycle tracker using breath analysis. To complement our leadership team and scale internationally, we are looking for a CTO (m/f/d) to join our team as soon as possible on a full-time basis.

Your tasks – versatile and varied:

- You set a vision for the use of technology in the company and outline goals for research & development
- You create schedules for the development and deployment of all technology services and manage technology budgets
- You make leadership decisions based on the technology needs of the business and identify, benchmark, and implement technology solutions
- You combine a strategic perspective, hands-on pragmatism and a strong solutions orientation
- You grow breathe ilo's Tech & Data team, attract outstanding talent with your profile and personality, and act as a mentor
- You keep track of technology trends and developments and ensure that all technology practices comply with legal/regulatory standards

Your profile:

- You have >5 years of professional experience in various, relevant data science/ engineering/mgmt. and/or software development roles, including >2 years with leadership responsibility (ideally already at startups).
 - You have experience with database systems (e.g. SQL, Google Big Query), cloud-based frameworks (e.g. Cloud Functions), software architecture and convincing programming skills (e.g. Python, Matlab) and are very familiar with DevSecOps methods
 - You (ideally) have a degree in science/technology, e.g., in data/computer science, mathematics, or statistics
 - You have a very high level of commitment, independence and willingness to learn
 - You embody strong leadership and team management skills, and can thus inspire and coordinate a hybrid internal/external technology team with diverse roles (app developers, backend engineers, data scientists, etc.)
 - You may even have previous experience in medical/wellness/lifestyle development (not required)
 - You are looking for a responsible role in building a fast-growing, digital women's health platform and strive to make a social impact and difference through the use of technology and data

We offer:

- Opportunity to help shape the overall strategic direction and take on significant responsibility in growing the Digital & Data team of a startup with aspirations to become a global leader in Digital Health/FemTech
- A highly skilled team with drive and a desire to make significant progress on women's health globally
- Collaboration with a strong, hybrid software team and partner agencies.
- Agile work environment and flat organizational structure
- Flexible working hours and a workplace with best-in-class infrastructure at The Base co-working space
- Regular team events, company lunches, and more

We hope to have aroused your interest in working in our young company with unique potential and look forward to receiving your meaningful e-mail application (incl. CV).

For this position, a salary in line with the market and, depending on qualifications and professional experience, a share in the company's success are envisaged.
